Alexander and McKfiney wished to ful county

Alexander and McKinney wished to form an organization with a capital stock of $30,000 of which they would take $15,000 while the remainder was to be sold to the people in Boone County, preferably farmers in order to get them interested in dairying and buying more dairy stock. If the organization was perfected a building 40x60 was to be erected and equipped with modern machinery for the factory. The men claimed to have sold at a good profit all the condensed milk that the plant could produce during the first five years.

Mr. Alexander stated that Missouri
